

A T A B L E.

Visitors of its free-school enabled to sell the school lands. November, 1782, ch. 30.

TAXES.

To be imposed by the legislature only, in no case to be levied by the poll, and ought to be in a just proportion to property. Decl. 12, 13.

Commissioners proceedings aided. March, 1780, ch. 3.

Commissioners empowered to deduct from the assessment of the well affected who have suffered from the British army. June, 1780, ch. 12.

Lieutenants empowered to deduct for the tax imposed under June, 1780, ch. 10 and 13, on the property of sufferers who are not nonjurors. October, 1780, ch. 9.

TREASON.

High treason and misprision thereof defined, and punishable with death. February, 1777, ch. 20.

A mode of outlawry. October, 1777, ch. 20, sec. 28.

Not indicted after three years, and each distinct fact must be proved by two witnesses. Same act, sec. 29.

The debts of traitors to be liquidated. April, 1782, ch. 36.

Judgments in treason changed. April, 1782, ch. 42.

TREASURERS.

To be appointed during pleasure by the house of delegates, and during a recess by the executive. Const. 13.

Directions given them as to convention money. June, 1777, ch. 16.

Their duties are prescribed by a vast variety of acts relative to finance.

TRIAL.

Ought to be where the facts arise; the rights of a person accused. Decl. 18, 19, 20, 21.

U

UNIVERSITY.

TO be formed by the union of the two colleges. 1784, ch. 37.

V

VERDICT.

NOT to be set aside because a juror had a trial depending at the same term. October, 1778, ch. 21, sec. 2, 3.

VESSELS.

The act of 1744, ch. 20, made, among other purposes, for the punishment of those who shall burn vessels, continued for seven years by the act of October, 1780, ch. 12. November, 1765, ch. 25.

The burning or betraying public vessels, or attempting so to do, punishable with death. October, 1777, ch. 1.

Vessels made liable to seizure by the lieutenant of the county. March, 1778, ch. 8.

Burning or destroying any vessel above forty feet keel, made a capital crime. 1784, ch. 79, sec. 23.

VESTRIES.

Select vestries to be appointed. March, 1779, ch. 9.

A supplement to that act. November, 1779, ch. 7.

VIENNA.

Geese and swine not to be suffered to go at large. November, 1783, ch. 20.

W

WARRANTS.

Without oath, or general, not legal. Decl. 23.

WASHINGTON ACADEMY.

Instituted. November, 1779, ch. 15.

A supplement. 1784, ch. 64.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE.

Instituted. April, 1782, ch. 8.

Funds established. 1784, ch. 7.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

See Montgomery county as to its creation, provision for collecting a levy, &c.

Court adjourned. October, 1780, ch. 2.

WICCOMICO MANOR.

Tenant favoured. April, 1782, ch. 18.

WILLS. See Administrators.

WITNESSES.

The act of 1752, ch. 13, respecting witnesses not finding security, continued for seven years by the act of October, 1780, ch. 12. November, 1765, ch. 15.

May be summoned from one county to another. October, 1777, ch. 12.

Fines. October, 1778, ch. 21, sec. 15, and April, 1782, ch. 40.

Their allowance. October, 1780, ch. 17.

WOLVES, CROWS AND SQUIRRELS.

The act of 1728, ch. 7, so far as relates to the killing of crows and squirrels in St. Mary's, Kent, Somerset, Charles, Anne-Arundel, Talbot, Cecil, Calvert, Prince-George's, Dorchester, Worcester, and Frederick counties, repealed. 1769, ch. 16.

The said act is in like manner repealed with respect to Queen-Anne's. September, 1770, ch. 14.

With respect to Baltimore also. 1774, ch. 6.

A provision made for the destruction of wolves. April, 1783, ch. 37.

WORCESTER COUNTY.

For its free-school, see Somerset county.

Court adjourned. October, 1778, ch. 1.

Court revived. March, 1779, ch. 6.

Proceedings of the deputy sheriff, after the death of his principal, made valid, and the present sheriff empowered to collect. October, 1780, ch. 3 and 4.